1,600 Queen's Park residents have backed the campaign already. Support has come from all parts of the community.

Queen's Park Community Council would make sure our neighbourhood doesn't lose out to other better-resourced areas.

This bold move to secure greater local control and a recognised voice for the area, makes us the 1st in London to do so. But we need your help to succeed.

Its purpose:

To reduce the effect of the cuts to benefits and local services, which are only just beginning to be felt.

Influence public spending locally (police, health, etc) to make sure services are geared to people's needs.

Fund-raising to provide extra resources for priority projects; you can decide which.

Through local groups residents have helped vulnerable people in our neighbourhood, and provided activities to bring neighbours together.

As the organisations we relied on are scaled back, we now need to set up a Community Council that can stand-up for local residents.

Come and find out more and tell us what you think is most needed to help residents and the area.
